Sophie McKay Knight

Sophie studied Fine Art at Edinburgh University and College of Art, gaining an MA (Hons) in 1997. She has been practicing as a professional artist ever since, working and exhibiting throughout the UK and abroad.

She has worked professionally with Art in Hospitals (1997-2001), Dundee Contemporary Arts (2001-2003), Kirkcaldy Museum & Art Gallery (2009), and Tate Gallery, Liverpool (2000-2008). She has been a committee member with Visual Arts Scotland (2001-2004), and given workshops in association with Fife Council, St Andrews University (2008,2009) and the National Galleries of Scotland (2008).

Sophie has exhibited regularly since 1998 at the Royal Scottish Academy, as part of the Annual Open exhibitions with the SSA, Visual Arts Scotland and the Royal Society of Watercolourists. Her work can also be regularly seen in Edinburgh galleries, The Leith Gallery, Colours Gallery and Amber Arts.

Sophie has also been awarded several prizes for her work including the Hope Scott Trust Award in 2008, the Scottish Arts Club Award in 2005, Best painting Prize (VAS at RSA) in 2003 and a Special Commendation in the Jerwood Drawing Competition in 1999.
